COMMERCE COMMISSION TO DECIDE

QUESTION OF REBATES ON SUBSTITUTION OF TONNAGE

HEARING TODAY FOR THE PURPOSE OF ADOPTING CERTAIN RULES AND REGULATIONS ON TRANSPORTATION.

WASHINGTON, March 28—Commissioner McChord of the interstate commerce commission today held a hearing with representatives of lumber dealers and various railroad attorneys over the question of the "substitution of tonnage" on lumber in transit points.

On this question the commission has had a great deal of trouble with both railroads and shippers. Claims have been made by the shippers that railroads have been giving certain dealers rebates and discriminating against others. Charges also have been made by the railroads that shippers have been able to defraud them out of thousands of dollars worth of transportation and have been using "crooked" bills of lading. Investigations have been conducted by the commission, but nothing of a criminal nature has been discovered.

The hearing today was for the purpose of adopting certain rules and regulations governing this phase of freight transportation.

Attorney Patterson, representing a Pennsylvania railroad, and other lawyers urged the commission to make effective rules which would describe exactly the kind of shipments received, and in what manner and form they are delivered after leaving the transit point.

Shipments are received at transit points on original shipments from points of origin. They are changed there, dressed lumber or into timbers and sent to destination. In the substitution of the second shipment for the original shipment, the railroad rebates or frauds are practiced by either the railroad or the shipper.

Commissioner McChord gave notice after hearing the various contentions of the shippers and lumber dealers that the commission would finally decide in the matter within a space of three months.

DEMENTED MAN KILLS HIS YOUNG ORANGE GROVE.

Last Saturday night Isaac Pace who lived in the northeast part of town, became deranged in mind and spent most of the night in destroying his own property. He had one of the prettiest young groves in this vicinity and he girdled 120 trees in this valuable grove. He also cut down his beans, dug his potatoes out of the ground, burned his hay and rice pile, and Sunday morning was cutting down his corn when stopped by his neighbors. Sunday evening he was taken to Arcadia where he was examined *for his sanity and Monday evening he passed through Wauchula in charge of an officer enroute for the insane hospital at Chattahoochee. Mr. Pace has lived here for a number of years and was a most peaceful and harmless old gentleman. He lived by himself and was building up a valuable property. His misfortune is regretted by all.—Wauchula Advocate.

THE BENNETT

At the Bennett Tuesday afternoon Messrs A. H. and E. Lane tendered a surprise farewell tea in honor of Mesdames Henry S. and Robert Hounyon of Holyoke, who have been pleasant guests at the hotel, this being their fourth consecutive season. Tea was served in one of the spacious rooms before leaving time and was an enjoyable surprise as it was a novelty. Taken utterly by surprise the affair was one of delight, and a fine testimonial of the esteem in which the Mesdames Houston are held by their friends at the Bennett. They expect to return to Daytona again next winter for the season.

Pole's Passion for Gambling.

The trial at Cracow of a Polish aristocrats named Stutchkel who has come to grief through gambling has been the occasion of some curious revelations about the hold which this vice has on business men in Austrian Poland.

Dr. Stutchkel's wife in her endeavor to keep her husband out of temptation tried the plan of never leaving him out of her sight even when he went to his office. The lawyer then made a practice of going to bed early and rising at 4 in the morning before his wife was awake in order to hurry off to the so-called "Monte Carlo" at Cracow, which he would find still in full swing at that hour. When staying at hotels during the summer he would arrange meetings with other card players in the bathroom and play there for hours, while he told his wife that he was taking a cold water cure.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

BROTHER JONATHAN.

By A. W. MACY.

The name "Brother Jonathan" as applied to America or to American citizens was formerly in much more general use than it is now. It originated during the War of the Revolution. After Washington had been appointed commander of the army he went to Massachusetts to get matters in shape there. He found a great scarcity of ammunition and other necessities, and for a time it seemed almost impossible to devise adequate means for the public needs. Jonathan Trumbull was then governor of Connecticut, a man of perfect integrity and great common-sense. Washington had implicit confidence in Trumbull's judgment, so in his perplexity concerning the Massachusetts situation he remarked, "We must consult Brother Jonathan about this." He did so, and the governor was of great assistance to him. After that when difficulties arose, it became common to say, "We will consult Brother Jonathan about this," and in time "Brother Jonathan" became a synonym, as to speak, of the United States. Governor Trumbull backed the part of Uncle Sam. He was tall, gaunt, sharp-featured, and sharply legged, and usually wore striped homespun cloth trousers a little too short.

MIS STRATAGEM WAS COSTLY

It Was Designed to Break Him of Cigarette Habit, But Only Left Him Poorer.

Mat Keene is described by Mrs. Meyer, our landlady, as being a "nice man" and "once as a church member." The Meyers established in town—he is a student of engineering; the state's in rather baffling, but that he pays 1 year in advance and he pound a week—me to me during many long winter evenings. I offered him a smoke, and was instantly attracted to the case in his story of the cunning stratagem he employed to break himself of the habit of smoking to excess.

Mat Keene had divided smoke and divers tricks to accomplish his end, all without success, the latest monstrator against the enemy consisted in his buying the most expensive cigarettes he could find, with the idea in mind that the wanton and profligate extravagance of smoking them up too rapidly would materially reduce his consumption of the weed; then, if the campaign were successful, he would get from his expense in the long run, but when the habit was more under control he could resume his expense even below the present by returning to cheaper brands. Such ingenuity as this is deserving of reward, but alas! it failed from the start, and hell Mat Keene a poorer and a far more temperate man.—New York Evening Post.

Measuring Names.

Practically all the wooden clocks called Dutch are made in the village of Freiburg, in the Black Forest. This eminence is due to simple uniqueness of method, as well as to ingenuity of construction. Nothing is more natural than to assume that Dutch ink comes from Dutch soil, if not from Dutch sea and Siberian squirrels. Comet's hair is harvested, employed in the manufacture of certain fabrics to be the made into shawls, etc., and is sometimes mixed with silk.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN Food Specialist

ASPARAGUS INJURIOUS TO KIDNEYS.

A writer in the London Lancet (May 5) says that there is no good ground for the objection to asparagus as a food, that while it contributes to the uric acid in the system, thus tending to produce or aggravate rheumatic conditions, it is, as is popularly supposed, a mild stimulant to the kidneys and should not, therefore, be excluded from the list of foods. I have advised against the use of asparagus and can see no reason for changing that advice. There is no element of nutrition in asparagus which may not be better obtained from other foods and experiments have led to the conclusion that it is injurious, especially to those predisposed to rheumatism or any kidney disease.

Practically all the wooden clocks called Dutch are made in the village of Freyburg, in the Black Forest. This misnomer is due to simple mispronunciation—"Deutsch" meaning, of course, German. Nothing is more natural than to assume that India ink comes from India, but it does not, and never did, any more than does India rubber. India ink is a Chinese product, and India rubber comes from South America. Camel's hair brushes are not made from the hair of camels, but from the hair of the tails of Russian and Siberian squirrels. BODY FLOATED SIX YEARS

Belonged to Ship Wrecked Off Japan and Owner Corrects Current Report to Scotland.

A strange story of the seas and their mysterious currents was told in a letter received by Stanley Dollar, of this city, from John Gear, of Lerwick, Scotland, including a clipping from the Scotland Times, published at Lerwick.

The item is to the effect that there was picked up on the beach at Culbrea, Peterhead, north of Scotland, a life buoy, tattooed and stained, bearing the inscription: "Passed by J. Durkin, San Francisco, Cal., June 1, 1905."

Capt. Guthrie is an assistant local inspector of steamboats for his district.

The Stanley Dollar was wrecked off the west coast of Japan in August, 1906, and the buoy must have been floating in the ocean currents until it landed ever in Scotland. Whether it went around the Horn or through the Northwest Passage or down by Australasia and around the Cape of Good Hope into the Atlantic is a mystery of seafaring men. The buoy holds the world's record for drifting the longest distance ever known.

Equally marvelous is the fact that it was not found before, but this may be explained by the theory that it floated in parts of the two oceans unfrequented by many vessels.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Great Premium Offer

THE circulation of The Gazette-News is already large but the publisher is determined to add several hundred more names to the list and in order to do so makes several offers that you cannot afford to miss.

We want to give every housewife in this country a new pair of SHEARS—not that we think you are out of shears at your house but we know that no matter how many pair of shears you have, you will appreciate a new pair, especially the Eureka Trimmer Shears, which is a superior shear in every way to the ordinary pair of shears generally used in the everyday household.

This is not a philanthropic movement on our part nor a plan to disburse charity, nor is it a scheme to force people to buying something they do not need. We have learned the value of the housewife's good will, and this will be considered by us in offering these

Eureka Bent Trimmer Shears

We have bought another gross for distribution and those who do not respond to our offer immediately may not be able to get a pair. If you want to secure a pair

then you will be sure of receiving your shears. This is a very liberal offer and one that can be taken advantage of by everyone in this country, and we want readers to our paper. We believe this offer will more than satisfy the most exacting subscriber.

GIVES SOCIETY A NEW DANCE

Jonah Kuhio Kalanianaole, delegate to congress from Hawaii, usually known as "Prince Cupid," has introduced a new dance to the national capital. It is called the Mumbo Jumbo, or Americanized Hula-hula, and is said to eclipse the turkey trot, the grizzly bear, the Apache and all others of that ilk. Jonah is a cousin of ex-Queen Li'liuokalani.

In Imminent Danger.

Mr. and Mrs. Aschenbrenner were touring Europe, and had just arrived at Pisa. Mrs. Aschenbrenner was all excited upon reaching the Leaning Tower and eagerly pattered up the spiral stairway, leaving her husband languidly awaiting her return.

As she weighed a shade over the 200 mark, her husband always dug up an excuse when it came to accompanying her on any altitudes above easy falling distance.

He was just pondering on the beautiful flow of unintelligible language used by their guide, when from the topmost rampart came the "Hi-lee, Hi-lo" trill from his wife, who was leaning far out and waving a scarf.

Mr. Aschenbrenner obligingly looked up and then came to life with an anguished roar: "Gretchen, for your life, get back! You're bending the building!"

Her Nationality.

In the lower grade of a New York public school the teacher was receiving from the children who had recently entered the class statistics of nationality for her annual report. They are extremely interesting in New York public schools, for they include youngsters from every known corner of the globe. Having enrolled Germans, Italians, Poles, Irish, Australians, Scandinavians, Arabs, Montenegrins and others, the teacher asked a flaxen haired miss—hoping to hear the rare word "American"—"What are you, Florence?" Mindful of her home training, Florence promptly and cheerfully replied: "I'm a suffragette."

Womanly Qualities That Win.

With common sense, gentleness and confidence in herself a woman can always conquer.

What am I offered?

A 100-foot Corner Lot on Halifax avenue and Mobile Place, adjoining Clubhouse of the Florida East Coast Automobile association, one of the most desirable locations on the Peninsula, in excellent neighborhood and is within a stone's throw of the ocean. An ideal place for year 'round home.

Great Premium Offer

THE circulation of The Gazette-News is already large but the publisher is determined to add several hundred more names to the list and in order to do so makes several offers that you cannot afford to miss.

We want to give every housewife in this country a new pair of SHEARS—not that we think you are out of shears at your home but we know that no matter how many pair of shears you have, you will appreciate a new pair, especially the Eureka Trimmer Shears, which is a superior shear in every way to the ordinary pair of shears generally used in the everyday household.

This is not a philanthropic movement on our part nor a plan to disburse charity, nor is it a scheme to force people to buying something they do not need. We have learned the value of the housewife's good will, and this will be considered by us in offering these

We have bought another gross for distribution and those who do not respond to our offer immediately may not be able to get a pair. If you want to secure a pair

then you will be sure of receiving your shears This is a very liberal offer and one that can be taken advantage of by everyone in this country, and we want readers to our paper. We believe this offer will more than satisfy the most exacting subscriber.

Send us $1.50, and six cents additional if you desire the shears mailed, and we will send you the GAZETTE-NEWS FOR ONE YEAR AND A PAIR OF THESE SHEARS ABSOLUTELY FREE. This offer applies to either new subscriptions or renewals

Point to Remember.

It was the ballet master who spoke. The occasion was the rehearsal in London of the Walpurgis scene in Guonod's "Faust." He chided: "Loidies, loidies, take yer 'ands off yer 'ips, yer not dancing on 'Ampstead 'eath; yer dancin' in 'ell."

Where the Rain Goes.

All the rain that percolates down into the earth comes to the surface again somewhere. It goes down until it meets rock, through which it cannot pass, and as more water is coming down and pressing upon it, it has to find a way to escape to the surface. In this underground trip it takes up from rocks the salts that are useful to the life of plants and animals.

Economy in Music.

"What's all that racket about in the parlor?" asked the father.

"Why, that's Mary and Jane playing a duet on the piano," explained mother.

"Both of 'em playing at once?"

"Yes; it's a duet."

"Well, can't they wear out the piano fast enough playing one at a time?"

This Should Be Considered.

Nobody has as yet succeeded in suggesting a way in which boys who become dissatisfied with their fathers may work the recall.

HOLLY HILL

HOLLY HILL, Mar. 28—The first service in the new Union church will be held April 7, Easter Sunday, at 3 p. m. The Rev. D. H. Rutter, of the First Methodist church, Daytona, will officiate.

Mrs. Dearborn, who has been spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Corning, expects to leave Thursday for St. Augustine, where she will remain for a few days before returning to her home in New Hampshire.

Dr. J. J. Crow arrived Monday. Mrs. Crow has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCoy. The doctor expects to remain here some time.

J. T. Minton came Sunday from Titusville and returned Monday stopping off at New Smyrna for a few hours. Henry Minton has gone to Bartow to learn the brick mason's trade.

Among our visitors this week were Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Eckerson and little daughter and Mrs. Parsons.

A very pleasant birthday celebration was given Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Crow.

HIS SPEECH WAS GREAT HIT

Pumperton Thought It Was His Wit, But His Wife Discovered the Reason.

It was late before Pumperton got home, but his wife was still sitting up for him. "Well, John," she greeted him, "how was the dinner? And how was your speech received?"

Pumperton took off his coat, smiling genially. "Oh, splendidly, my dear, splendidly! I got there a bit late, when the others were already at the table, but I just slipped in quietly and didn't make any stir."

"Well, how about the speech?" she reminded him. "Did it make as much of a hit as you expected?"

"Oh, yes—more. None of the preceding speeches had been particularly clever, and they had hardly raised a smile. But I had no more than stood up and begun when they began to laugh. I went on, my dear, and, I assure you, they simply shook. I never have seen any company so thoroughly entertained. I even expanded a little—gave them a couple of new stories that came into my mind. And when I sat down they cheered and clapped an laughed for minutes. I shall never forget how they laughed."

"Yes, I can well imagine so," his wife said sarcastically. "But the next time you are to make an after-dinner speech wouldn't it be well to put your vest on before leaving home?"

Feeding a Convalescent Child.

When my small son was convalescing from a recent illness the doctor ordered hot gruels, broths, etc., and I realized that it would require some finesse to get him to take them.

So after I had prepared the little dishes for the tray I rolled paper into cones and stood one up over each little cup. Then I pinned a penny flag onto one cone and, lo! I had Company "D" in camp and sonny and I went visiting.

We stopped first at the captain's tent (where the flag was) and he partook of the treat offered. Then he went gayly from tent to tent, eagerly lifting up the paper cones to see what was beneath.

The next day I made a log cabin out of toasted bread strips piled log cabin fashion. It inclosed a cup of beef tea, which he drank because it was presented in a way that appealed to his imagination.

We played soda fountain and he paid for his hot drinks with toy money, and thus I accomplished my purpose without friction.—Harper's Bazar.

Man Gets a Bouquet.

One foggy morning recently a Lackawanna ferryboat was in collision with a tug. No great damage was done, but for a few moments considerable excitement prevailed among the commuters. One woman in particular rushed to the rail, and in her panic seemed bent on leaping overboard. An athletic young man restrained her, assuring her there was no danger. At length she was sufficiently calmed to speak, and then, clinging to her preserver's arm, she gasped: "You know, I'm a spinster and a suffragette, but there certainly are times when a man is a mighty good thing to have around."—New York Press.

Fathers of Great Men.

The father of Samuel Pepys was a tailor. The father of James Mill was a cobbler. The father of Jules Verne was a day laborer. Oliver Cromwell's father was a brewer. Epictetus was the son of a day laborer. Socrates was the son of a day laborer. Giotto, the artist, was a peasant's son. The father of Pius V was a shepherd. The father of Schumann was a bookseller. The father of Pius IV was a peasant. The father of Cowley was a grocer. The father of Charles Lamb was a servant. Milton was the son of a copyist. Pope's father was a merchant. Neander's father was a carter. Homer was a farmer's son.

Not Polite as the Neighbors.

Mrs. Nextdore—Prof. Adagio called at our house yesterday and my daughter played the piano for him. He just raved over her playing.

Mrs. Peprey—How rude! Why couldn't he conceal his feelings the way the rest of us do?—Catholic Standard and Times.

"Te Deum" a Hymn of the Ages.

Hallowed by old association and fraught with many memories are the great church hymns like the "Te Deum," which for more than a thousand years has been the song of Christendom. It was chanted at the baptism of Clovis and sung at the jubilee of Queen Victoria. It was sung also after Agincourt and Waterloo, and on all solemn occasions when the heart of the people had been moved to thanksgiving for victory on land or sea.

ORMOND

ORMOND, March 27.—Judge Thompson and daughter, Miss Frances, left last Monday for their home at Danville, Ill. Miss Margaret Hollister accompanied them as far as Jacksonville, on her way home to Fargo, N. D.

Mrs. E. L. Borden will give a silver tea at her residence on Tuesday afternoon, April 2, from 2 o'clock to 5, for the benefit of the V. I. A. Donations from a silver dime to a "cart wheel" will be acceptable.

Mrs. George S. Merritt gave the children of Saint James Episcopal Sunday school a picnic last Saturday, taking them in autos to the old sugar mill at Port Orange, where they had all kinds of good things to eat, and a jolly good time, and returned to Ormond late in the day delighted with their outing.

A. B. Clarke has purchased the property of Mrs. Elmira Watson, corner of Pine street and Lincoln avenue.

Mrs. M. G. Middleton, who has been the guest of Miss Ella Faulk, left for her home in Philadelphia last Monday.

Mrs. J. A. Ryan gave a birthday party Friday week for her little son, Lawrence.

Quite a number of our people took in the boat excursion last Saturday to New Smyrna and the Monday excursion to Mound Grove on the steamer Uncle Sam of Daytona.

The regular meeting of the V. I. A. was held March 22 with a full attendance. Report of the last meeting announced the decision of the association to erect a new library building and consider it a memorial to the friends of the library. An opportunity will be given all interested to contribute towards the building fund through a circular the committee will distribute.

At a meeting of the state federation, held in Palatka this month, the orange blossom was voted as the state flower. Mrs. Eugene Williams, president of the club, of Richmond, Ky., spoke of the departments of work and of results shown in civic and reform work.

The paper for the afternoon on the "Indian in Florida" was written and read by Mrs. Eliza Graves of New York, giving the reasons for the Seminole war and the recent decision of congress in regards to a reservation for them in Florida. Miss Knowlton of Massachusetts read an interesting paper on "The Signing of the Treaty by the Indians."

Refreshments were served at the close of the meting and a social hour enjoyed.

The Union church has held its annual meeting and reports a prosperous year. The increased attendance, the accessions to the membership, the healthy condition of the treasury and the harmonious and hopeful condition of the church generally, must be gratifying to Dr. Richmond, the pastor, as well as to the members and friends. An urgent call has been extended to Dr. Richmond to continue as pastor, which he is considering and it is understood, favorably.

Benny on the Carp.

The German carp is a creature shaped so as to resemble a fish. It can swim in any kind of water, and has one eye on each side of its head. Its food consists of small black bass and three cornered pieces of boiled potato. You catch a carp by throwing a stone in the water to attract its attention and then letting down a hook baited with a nice piece of garbage. There are people in St. Joe who will pay ten or fifteen cents for a big, fat carp, but as for me I would rather have a Welsh rabbit or a pound of angel cake.—"Benny," in the Chicago Tribune.

Really Good Manners.

What then are good manners? Simply a fine and always thoughtful consideration for the feelings and comfort of others; polite and kindly address to "inferiors" as to equals or "superiors;" graciousness, which is also grace, under all circumstances; and with women especially, no matter whether in drawing room or office, that "low, soft voice," which Shakespeare declares to be "an excellent thing in women."

White Africans.

That race in northern Africa known as the Berbers is white, and if they dressed like our own people and had the habits of Americans or Europeans they could easily pass for such. The Berbers are believed to be descendants of the white inhabitants of ancient Europe. They are Mohammedans. Blue eyes, fair hair and rosy cheeks are quite common among them, and many of the women are strikingly handsome.—Harper's Weekly.

Foolish.

The man who goes into court merely to obtain satisfaction is about as foolish as the one who exhausts himself in trying to go through the world on a bluff.

Her Idea of It.

Algie Graham Livingston is going to write a spelling book, some day, if they let her, according to a writer in the Cleveland Leader.

"How do you spell 'Yaining?'" she asked the other afternoon, as the big drops came down and spoilt her outdoor play. In parenthesis be it said that she isn't big enough to pronounce the letter "r." Hence "Yaining."

Her mother gave the desired information, but Algie, whose proper name is Elsie, shook her head. Her big brother endeavored to assist her, but Algie roguishly declined advice.

"Well," said her brother Bob, "how do you spell it?"

"H, e, double l," came the answer, like a flash.

And they wonder where she got it.

More Than One.

The bald man rushed into the shop, flopped into a chair and roared: "I want a haircut." The astonished barber meditated for a moment and then, picking up the scissors, with an inspiration, meekly inquired: "Which one, sir?"

Geniuses Not Good Companions.

The wife of Charles Dickens is reported to have once said: "I suppose the world needs a few geniuses, but it's a dreadful fate to have to live with one of them." Mrs. Carlyle said the same thing in substance a great many times.

Extremes.

Dugald (in response to friendly invitation)—"Weel, man, I never touch whusky noo, unless I'm at the height o' hilarity or the depth o' depression; but I daursay I'm at present just in the state o' mind that wad justifie a bit taste!"—London Opinion.
